This 24,000 square foot facility serves as a training site for Michigan State University Archery, Rifle and Pistol Club Teams. The Demmer Center is also open to the public and offers an opportunity to enjoy shooting sports activities at various levels.

The Demmer Center, one of the largest of its kind in the nation, is a year-round facility which houses an indoor archery range and two state-of-the-art firearms ranges that will accommodate tournaments, leagues, marksmanship training and more. A large open commons area provides a staging place for events, space for vendors, award ceremonies or other needs. In addition, two conference rooms can accommodate up to 50 people with multi-media capabilities.

Capacity: The indoor archery range can accommodate 24 shooting points with a target distance up to 25 yards. Two indoor rifle and pistol ranges each with 8 firing points, up to 50 feet target distance, shooting small bore .22 rimfire and air rifle and air pistol. The indoor archery range is also designed to accommodate 24 firing points for air rifle or air pistol when needed to accommodate major events.

Complementing the Demmer Center is the Becky and Bob Humphries Community Archery Park which offers three ranges. The competition outdoor archery range offers 40 shooting points with a target distance of up to 90 meters. The field/3D outdoor archery range offers 30 shooting points with target distances of up to 70 meters. The beginner outdoor archery range can accommodate 40 shooting points with a target distance of up to 30 yards.

The entire facility is handicapped accessible.
